NAOMI

You know uh woman is uh scientist. At least she should be in the kitchen, eh? & should she become aware of her responsibility to keep good... clean food in her house SHE would count the numbers on her fruit & know the system. There are three sets of numbers we ought to know: the first is a combination of five numbers starting with the number nine/ this is the set on organic produce. The second is a combination of FIVE numbers starting with the number 8, dem oranges/ this is the set on genetically modified produce. The third & last is uh set of 4 numbers starting with the number four/ this is the set on conventionally grown produce. When we are shopping/ we are looking for the number 9.
